BEARS-CARDINALS VIEWED BY 82,000

PREMIER GRIDIRON GAME DRAWS RECORD CROWD

MEMORIAL STADIUM PACKED TO CAPACITY

Largest Throng in History of Football
Cheers Struggling Heroes in the Big Game of the Season.—California
Wins, 9 to 0.

The largest crowd in the history of football in America watched the struggling Bears of the University of California and the Cardinals of the Stanford University dedicate the new Memorial Stadium in the great contest for the coast championship. It was the ideal game, played under ideal conditions before an ideal multitude. By 2 o'clock the stadium was packed, while on the hills overlooking the scene were 15,000 who could not gain entrance to the grounds.

The story of the struggle is told in the following:

First Quarter

Captain Campbell won the toss, elected to defend the north goal, and Beam kicked off out of bounds. The ball was returned and Beam kicked off again. This time the kick was fair and Stanford returned 20 yard. The first break of the game followed shortly afterwards and Nevess fumbled and Carey recovered for California on Stanford's 45-yard line.

Stanford held. There was an exchange of punts interspersed with line plunges and then the Bears charged and Nevess' punt was blocked. Campbell was on the ball and recovered for Stanford. The quarter ended and there was little to choose between the two teams.

Second Quarter

Nevess was soon called upon to punt from behind his own goal line, and he arose to the occasion and Nichols fumbled only to recover the ball by inches on his own 45-yard line. A penalty for holding put the ball far into California's territory. Another exchange of punts followed and then California found herself in possession of the ball on Stanford's 43-yard line. A 20-yard pass from Nichols to Dunn gave California hope, but Nichols was thrown for a 7-yard loss. Blewett had replaced Dunn. On the fourth down Blewett dropped back and kicked, the ball rising high only to go off the side by feet. It was Stanford's ball on her own 20-yard line and then after an exchange of punts, Campbell fumbled and it was California's ball. Mell recovering on the 40-yard line, Stanford's off-side gave California first down on the 35-yard line and it seemed a sure score as Blewett dropped back to dropkick from the 35-yard line. But the kick was blocked and Stanford recovered on her own 4-yard line.

Nevess dropped back behind his own goal line to kick his team to safety. California, following the ball and playing the kicker was upon Stanford's youthful star, and Horrell blocked the kick and recovered behind Stanford's goal for the first touch-down of the game. Blewett kicked the goal and the score stood 7 to 0.

Beam again kicked off and Stanford received. Nevess seemed unstoppable. Time and again he hit the line and California gave way. It was the first down and then first down with passes interspersed with line plunges. Nevess made twenty yards around right end, then a pass and it was Stanford's ball on California's 8-yard line with a minute to play. And then Campbell called for a pass, and Newmeyer intercepted it for California. California swung into line and the tackle bore down. The 5-yard line flitted by and it appeared to be a clear field ahead. But Newmeyer tripped over his own interference in the middle of the field as the half ended.

Third Quarter

California again kicked off. The ball went out of bounds again in the precise place it had to open the game and the kick was recalled and Beam kicked to Nevess, who returned fifteen. Cleveland made nine and then repeated with twenty more. Then California held and Nevess punted. There was an exchange of punts and Hufford recovered Wheat's fumble in the middle of the field. California could not gain and Witter punted out of bounds on the 12-yard line. An exchange of punts followed and both sides found themselves unable to gain. It was California's ball as the quarter ended and the score stood 7-0.

Fourth Quarter

California could not gain to open the fourth quarter and an exchange of punts followed. And then Nichols caught the ball on a fair catch and chose to try for a fair kick from his own 45-yard line. Campbell fumbled, but recovered, and it was the Card-

TIJUANA FIRE SWEEPS OVER BUSINESS DISTRICT

Main Commercial Center is Practically Destroyed.—Blaze Starts When Lighted Match Hits Gasoline Tank.—Fireman Injured.

Tijuana, Mexico.—A fire that burned for seven hours in Tijuana, border resort city, caused a damage of $250,000 to the business and resort district of the town. Considerable looting was reported, and several looters were said to have been shot down by police of the border city and members of a volunteer vigilance committee.

Mexican officials, under Alvarado Rodriguez, military and civil governor of Lower California, who arrived in Tijuana shortly after the flames broke out, were reported to have started an investigation of reports that the fire had been set by members of the cooperative society, which has for its principal purpose enforcement of a demand that one native be employed for each American in Tijuana bars and other establishments, it is said, and is reported to have made numerous threats as a result of dissatisfaction over employment conditions.

Buildings destroyed included twenty-five saloons, among which were the Office bar, Newport bar, Last Chance bar, the Newport annex and Metropole Hotel, the Bargain Store, Silver bar, three adjoining office buildings, a distillery and a wholesale liquor house containing stock valued at $100,000.

The St. Francis hotel was damaged considerably, but escaped complete destruction.

The Foreign club, one of the most popular resorts in the town, especially with Americans, was seriously menaced, but was saved from destruction. A San Diego fireman received a broken leg while fighting the flames.

SAN FRANCISCO PUBLISHER FACES SECOND LABEL SUIT

San Francisco.—Charging libel in a story printed in the San Francisco Call and Post, John S. Drum, president of the Mercantile Trust company of San Francisco, has brought a second suit against John Francis Neylan, publisher of the San Francisco Call, for $200,000 in the Alameda county courts. The suit is based on a story charging Drum with manipulation of the Key Route system to force it into bankruptcy. A similar suit for a like amount was filed some time ago, based on the original story of the hearing before the state railroad commission, at which the reorganization of the company was effected.

The newspaper articles objected to appeared in the Call during the reorganization hearing before the railroad commission, at which it was shown that the finances of the company were in a precarious condition and at which it was requested that the corporation be reorganized.

Final ball on their own 20-yard line, Stanford, trying desperately to score, passed instead of kicking, and Horrell caught the ball on the 20-yard line.

Blewett replaced Dixon and there appeared three more points ahead for California. But Blewett failed again and Nevess punted from his 13-yard line and on an exchange of punts California interfered with Campbell on a free catch and Stanford was given the ball on her 38-yard line. A pass was completed and with one yard to go and first down, Campbell elected to send Nevess, tired as he was, into the line for another yard. He failed by inches, and it was California's ball on Stanford's 40-yard line. Stanford held, her line play stopping the Bruin backs dead in their tracks, and Blewett got a quick kick away.

Stanford chose to pass instead of kick and Blewett intercepted a pass on the 20-yard line. Nichols could not make any substantial gain, and then Blewett dropped back to kick again. The kick was blocked and the ball rolled toward the Cardinal goal. Campbell was on it, picked it up, but the California linemen were on him and threw him over his own goal for a safety and two more points. The score then stood 9-0, and it was Stanford's ball on her own 30-yard line.

And then Campbell decided to score if that was humanly possible. It was fourth down and fourteen yards to go. The only play was to kick, but he passed, and it was again California's ball on the 30-yard line. But still that Cardinal line held, and Blewett kicked wide again. Another pass for Stanford, complete and for no gain, then Woodward thrown for a seven-yard loss before he was able to get the ball away. And then a final pass and the gun barked the end of the game. The score 9 to 0.

Golden State News of Interest to All

John Armstrong, nightwatchman at Russian River Heights, Santa Rosa, was shot while attempting to arrest two burglar suspects. Later, when shown the picture of Roy D'Autremont, suspected of connection with the S. P. holdup near Yreka, Oct. 11, said he believed D'Autremont was the man who shot him.

Caroline Miles, 17-year-old Modesto girl won the premier prize in the American Legion state essay contest on "Why America Should Prohibit Immigration for Five Years." Robert Van Ethen of the Oakland high school won second, and the third went to Genevieve Churchill of Kelseyville.

The western terminus zero milestone of the Lee National highway was unveiled in the San Diego plaza with befitting ceremonies. President Coolidge pressed the button at Washington that opened the exercises and Col. Ed Fletcher read the president's message.

Two unknown men, running amuck in Stockton, beat a nightwatchman severely, run the occupants from a private house where they wrecked the furniture and gave battle to the police. One was killed; the other escaped.

The Superior court at San Francisco awarded Laura Stanford $2,495 for a pint of blood given in transfusion to Mrs. Sarah Hill. The husband offered her $5 in payment after the operation.

The San Luis Obispo and Santa Maria posts of the American Legion have denounced the 100 unmasked Klansmen who appeared in full regalia in the Armistice day parade at Santa Maria.

Los Angeles proposes to convert the bed of Los Angeles river into an industrial district by building a storm drainage and reclaim a strip of land 300 feet wide and about five miles in length.

Authorities believe they have again crossed the trail of the S. P. bandits in the shooting of Charles McCoby of Requa at his camp in a fight which a stranger provoked by insulting language.

Dr. E. F. Patton, director of health and development in the Sacramento schools, is to become associate officer of the National Child Welfare association with headquarters in New York. Plans for the removal of a large part of the Los Angeles motion picture colony to other fields within the next year or so were discussed at a luncheon of producers in San Francisco.

Mrs. Almira O'Neal, well known Red Bluff pioneer woman, died at the home of her daughter there. She came over the Lassen trail to Red Bluff in 1854 from Savanna, Ill.

At the closing session of the Scouts convention at San Diego a resolution calling for the establishment of a Masonic playground in the El Dorado national forest was approved.

The Supreme court has denied a rehearing of the case of Nellie E. Schooler against Edward Williamson of Chico, executor of the estate of Major Joseph R. Houghton.

When the 9-months-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherman of San Francisco became restless from teething the father, it is alleged, "blackened its eyes. She had him jailed."

Under government direction a giant dredger has been pumping silt from the north of the Richmond harbor against bulkheads for additional industrial era.

Fire, believed of incendiary origin was discovered in St. Raphael's church at San Rafael during mass and was extinguished with little damage.

William Barrows, pioneer member of the San Francisco bar, died at his Larkspur home at the age of 74. He had practiced there for fifty years.

John F. Kleckstein, a '52 pioneer of the Folsom region, died at his home after several months of failing health. He was a native of Dubuque, Iowa.

A jump from the bridge across Feather river at Oroville ended the life of B. Studebaker, for years an inmate of the Butte county infirmary.

The Richmond chamber of commerce is in the midst of a special campaign for industrial development along the Contra Costa shore line.

Construction of a boulevard of the present road running from Sasalito to Willow Camo and Bolinas is under consideration at Mill Valley.

Guada Luperommo of Richmond was killed in an auto collision with a Southern Pacific train. George Villalobos was seriously injured.

Corydon Jones, rejected suitor of Leona Brown, Sacramento telephone girl, seriously wounded her by shooting, then killed himself.

Thugs beat Pedra Garcia, 90-year-old candle lighter of a Los Angeles cathedral, so severely he may die and robbed him of $3.

The Lodi municipal water and light plant reports a net income for the fiscal year of $47,171, and served 2,382 consumers.

HOTTENTOT WINS!

"The Hottentot" was presented at the C. U. G. S. Auditorium Friday evening to an enthusiastic audience.

The play is a farce in three acts in which a steeple chase figures prominently, and was well staged and the parts exceptionally well sustained. Altho the lines were humorous and of themselves furnished much entertainment, the merriment was greatly enhanced by the acting which was exceptionally well carried out for amateurs.

We sincerely regret that the name of D. H. Cramer, who so acceptably took the part of "Perkins, the groom" was omitted from the copy of the cast of characters sent us for publication and from which the programs also were printed.

The parts of Archie Keesling and James T. Allen, as Swift, the butler, and Sam Harrington, westerner, respectively were among the more prominently and entailed some very good character work, which was very well done.

The net proceeds of the entertainment will be applied toward reducing the debt incurred in furnishing the stage of the auditorium.

An orchestra including Ralph Bohnett, Randall Peterson and Miss Irma Young helped to pass the intermissions very agreeably.

The thanks of the Grammar School faculty is hereby acknowledged to D. H. Cramer and A. H. Wegel of the high school faculty and Archie Keesling and Merlyn Bohnett. Its apology is extended. Mr. Cramer for omission of his name on the program.

BAZAAR A SUCCESS

The bazaar held by the Congregational Guild last week was very successful. The church parlors were fairly overflowing with collections of fancy work, aprons, candy, food, plants and miscellaneous articles.

A very well patronized supper was served Thursday evening and was followed later in the evening by a short program. Piano numbers were given by Irma Young and Wilma Smith, vocal solos by Mrs. R. H. Hyde and H. C. Smith, and readings by Mrs. Smith.

The sale was continued Friday afternoon and many lines were cleared out, but some things which were left will be on sale later.

SEE OLD FRIENDS

Mr. Jan Kalas and family enjoyed a visit last week from two members of the New York String Quartet, Mr. Ottokar Cadek and Mr. Jaroslav Siskovsky. This quartet, which has given concerts in San Francisco and other coast cities, has met with marked favor and bids fair to rival some of the older organizations of similar kind.

Mr. Cadek's father and Mr. Kalas have been life long friends and he greatly enjoyed the opportunity of continued acquaintance with his son.

Manford Reed, a peace officer who has served the city of Hanford in different capacities for the past ten years, was arrested and charged with burglary following the finding of merchandise of nearly $5,000 value in the home of a Mrs. Garcia, with whom Reed was known to have associated. The goods comprised everything from silk dresses to toilet articles and a great deal of it was identified by merchants whose establishments had been robbed during the past year.

Despite all efforts of the parents of Velda Ogden, Rocklin girl of 15 years who disappeared from a packing shed at Loomis ten weeks ago, no trace of her whereabouts has been brought out and the parents are inclined to the belief that she is being held in hiding where she has no access to mail facilities by the stranger in whose car she left her place of employment.

The destruction of the immaculate Conception Catholic church at Sutter Creek by fire of incendiary origin brought an offer from the Episcopal church of the use of their edifice for worship. The offer was accepted.

Generous Citizens Give to Help Needy Ones

The Campbell Relief Committee covering the seven school districts which are closely related through the Campbell Union High School or the Campbell Union Grammar School have finished their drive for funds, in co-operation with the twenty-four other organizations included in the chest work.

They feel they have done their part in helping to create the splendid spirit of helpfulness which is manifest through the whole community chest idea.

The success of the movement in the Campbell District is due very largely to the large heartedness of the residents of this progressive rural community. However worthy a cause may be in itself, it can not be crystallized into practical form without the self-sacrificing efforts of a number of devoted people. We especially want to thank the captains, and others working in the several districts for their generous gift of time and service.

The report by district is as follows:

Cambrian—F. C. Farr, captain; C. E. Hanger.

Campbell No. East—Mrs. J. O. Sharpless, captain; Mrs. Lila Strong.

Campbell, Southeast—Mrs. W. I. Merrill, captain.

Campbell, Northwest—Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, captain; Miss Mary F. Blinger, H. C. Smith, Miss Jessie Lewis and S. N. Hedegard.

Campbell Southwest—Mrs. D. H. Cramer, captain; Miss Ethel M. Davis, Mrs. M. F. Mumma, Mrs. J. J. Pardee, Mrs. Clair Davidson, Miss A. E. Denton, Hamilton—Wm. R. Coupland, captain; Geo. Parso.

Meridian—Mrs. W. S. Templeton, captain; W. E. Eckles.

Moreland—Mrs. A. A. Earl, captain.

San Tomas—C. E. York, captain; W. H. Chandler.

Union—Homer Hildebrand, captain.

NEW SERVICE

The Congregational church will begin next Sunday, December 2, a new order of service to continue for six weeks. A vesper service will be held from 5:30 to 6:00 which will consist of music and a brief devotional message. After this the congregation will be divided into classes, adult, young people, and junior, for the study of Japan. Mr. Glen Fisher's book "Creative Forces in Japan" will be studied in the adult class. In the other classes books adapted to the different ages will be studied but all along the same general theme.

Each Sunday evening some special feature will be given at the opening of the study class. This will be interesting and instructive as well as create a broader missionary spirit in the church.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. F. E. Duncan was very happily surprised Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. Ira McConnell and son Duncan, of San Leandro, and Edgar Duncan and Miss Ethel Enemark appeared about 8 o'clock to help celebrate her birthday anniversary. They brought the cake, ice cream, and other things for a birthday party and a very jolly reunion was enjoyed.

Mrs. McConnell and Duncan remained over for the week-end.

PROGRAM ENJOYED

Orchard City Grange enjoyed a special treat during the lecture hour Tuesday evening. Several of the men gave a playlet creating considerable mirth.

Jos. Bohnett gave an accordion solo and later a novelty harmonica performance which proved very amusing. He beat the jazz artists at their own game by introducing kewpie dancers with his act.

ASSOCIATION HOLDS BUSY MEETING

Campbell Commercial Association met Wednesday evening at the Library.

Chas. Shumway reported that the new Campbell signs were being made according to latest instructions and would be placed along the highway soon. C. H. Whitman reported progress in the work of the advertising committee and the cost of putting out the work will be ascertained in the near future.

J. B. Strong was appointed to be the auditing committee.

The amendment to reduce the monthly dues was voted down.

Mr. Shumway and Mr. Strong were appointed to the advertising committee.

It is reported that work will be begun next week on the repaving of Winchester road west of the new grammar school. This paving will run to the gutter curb along the school property and make an added improvement.

RELIGION IN CHINA

The last meeting of the Country Woman's Club was devoted to a study of the Philosophy and Religion of China with Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, as chairman. She was dressed in a beautiful Chinese Mandarin suit, and during the program Chinese candy and nuts were served.

Her division of the subject death with Confucianism, Mrs. E. J. Cuthbertson read a paper on Buddhism and Mrs. Robert Parkhill on Taoism, all of which were very interesting and presented a clear picture of the religious and philosophic life of the Chinese.

Dr. Emily Smith, who was for many years a missionary in China, gave a most delightfully entraining description of the effect which the introduction of the Christian religion has had upon the various phases of life in that country.

AMERICAN'S GROUND

FOR THANKSGIVING

It is well for the American people that they pause in their busy careers to reflect seriously on the many blessings which attend their every daylife. It is true there are a great many things in our national and social life in which we do not measure up to our ideals. It is questionable whether the time will ever come when we shall have attained a political and social condition in which we shall not be called to the attainment of higher things and be agitated more or less with discontent. Progress is the law of life, dissatisfaction is the mother of progress. It is out of dissatisfaction that there is born both the desire for better things and the endeavor to attain them. Possibly we should be thankful today for even the things which are not to our liking, for these are the things which bid us to bestir ourselves.

Today America is big with hope because there is a larger body of men and women than ever before consecrated to the cause of freedom and inspired by lofty patriotism, who are daily devoting themselves to the advancement of what promises to make not only for their happiness and well being; but for the happiness and well being of the world. No one whose soul is not dead in a sordid materialism or unresponsive to the higher things in life can fail on this national Thanksgiving to feel the call to a devout and reverend acknowledgement before God of a deep and sincere gratitude for the multiplied blessings which today crown the lives of the American people. He appears to have withheld from us no good gift nor to have denied us any perfect boon.

THE CALM DRIVER

A few years ago, it was commonly said that almost anyone could drive an automobile. But as conditions are now in and near populous towns, with a flock of cars hurrying hither and thither, and in many places extremely congested, the time has come when successful driving calls for a certain temperament.

The impatient man or woman, who has little self control and acts on ill considered impulses, has no place on the motor roads or streets of today. The right kind of driver has a calm and philosophical temperament. He takes the incidents of the roads good naturedly. He does not feel that it is a serious matter to lose a few seconds, and he is not worried or upset by delays. If the people who drive cars were all that type, there would not be many accidents.

A NEWSPAPERLESS CITY

For three days, recently, New York was without daily newspapers. For three days 6,000,000 people were without knowledge of world events, and local happenings. For three days, they knew nothing of what department stores had to offer or what new shows and pictures were appearing in town.

And here is the result:

Shopping decreased 10 per cent the first day, 30 per cent the second day and the third day showed a decrease of more than 50 per cent.

Theatres had a falling off in attendance of probably 20 per cent.

Salesman and salesgirls who work in department stores on commission suffered a loss in wages which will total nearly $1,000,000 a day.

A newspaperless city means vast business and personal losses. A newspaperless world would be unthinkable.

Lloyd George says Europe owes us a debt of gratitude, but that's not the one we are worried about.

Klan officials are beginning to kill each other now. This should make it interesting.

The alarm clock is a failure unless it is backed up by considerable human resolutions.

WE have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people. We have been a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people.—President Coolidge, 1923.

Bomb Spanish Consulate

Philadelphia.—A bomb exploded on the doorstep of the Spanish consulate shortly afterward two other explosions occurred about a mile from the scene of the first blast. One of them partially wrecked the Sons of Italy Bank. The Spanish consulate found a package on the doorstep when he returned from the theatre, and carried it into the hallway. Later, he said, he replaced the package where it was found. A moment afterward the explosion occurred.

Butterick's Patterns in Stock

THE LADIES will be pleased at this news: Blaine's Store has Butterick Patterns in stock. Now for quick service. No more waiting for patterns by mail, or special trips made for patterns to San Jose. Satisfy your pattern needs from the Pattern Cabinet in our store.

This new service is a big improvement over our mail service of several years past. Yet the mail service has been patronized by many, and can still be used in the rare instances that a pattern is needed which our cabinet assortment does not include. But usually the desired pattern will be in the cabinet.

Latest styles will be added to our stock every month. Periodically, out-of-date patterns will be discarded from the cabinet and replaced by new patterns. All possible will be done to make the service pleasing, a real help to the ladies of the community.

However, business is business, and this new service must somehow be made to pay. Boost for it. Tell your friends about it. Successful merchandising departments of any good kind become an asset to the community. Boosting local enterprises is no false sentiment—it's just plain common sense. Helps you and helps the other fellow.

OBSERVATION MADE AT DINUBA

The following article was contributed by one of the recent visitors at Dinuba, who made a careful study of the high school there. The attention of our readers is particularly directed to the account of the uniform dress of the girls.

"We are educating our boys and girls away from the farm"—such were the words of Prof. F. M. Powell, principal of Dinuba High School in a short talk I had with him while attending the State Grange.

The above thought is found in the writings and speeches of many of our modern thinkers. Prof. L. H. Bailey of Cornell University and for many years editor of "Country Life in America," says in his book "Nature Study Ideas": "I am very sure that the educating of farmer boys and girls will often have the effect of taking them away from the old farm." Again he says: "I should hope that the early training (of children) would be such that more persons would want to specialize in agricultural subjects than has been the case in the past."

The Dinuba High School claims to have one of the best equipped scientific and manual training departments to be found anywhere in the state, still Prof. Powell says "We are trying to teach our boys and girls how to do things at home with such tools and equipment as are found in the average home and on the farm."

In the domestic science rooms, of course, every convenience is at hand, gas and electricity, accurate scales and measures, and a great variety of materials, but the girls are taught that just as good results can be obtained by the use of the wood stoves and such other conveniences as are usually found at home and that the result of their work depends far more on them than on their equipment, and that they should not say "Oh, if I only had the things that we have at school to do with", but learn to make the best use of things at hand.

Much time is given to the instruction of boys in the care and repair of autos, tractors and trucks and the same lesson is here impressed upon them—to make the best use of the tools and material at hand.

In going thru the scientific department we noticed that everything was kept in good order—tools and instruments, chemicals etc., when not in use were kept in their places, denoting order and system which are important lessons to everyone and if impressed on the mind at an early age will usually stay with one, but it is difficult to teach old dogs new tricks.

The moving picture room was finished with two up-to-date machines, making it possible to have a continuous entertainment without the slightest interruption.

One feature of the Dinuba High School was quite noticeable. The girls were all dressed in uniform, consisting of skirt, middie and tie—any combination of blue and white is allowed and any quality of goods, but moderation in expense was encouraged by providing a suit of good quality for only $3.00.

I asked Prof. Powell how he managed to get all the girls to adopt the uniform. First, he said, he selected a bunch of girls whom he thought would be reasonable, called them together and talked the matter over, having one girl in a uniform present. They all fell in with the idea at once. A little later a meeting of all the girls in the school was called. As before, one of the girls was dressed in uniform. He told them that the object of the meeting was to discuss the advisability of adopting such a uniform, speaking for a few minutes on its merits, then left the meeting entirely to the girls. The result was 90% voted for the uniform. Then a committee of two girls from each class was appointed to try and induce all the girls to adopt the uniform. The final result was that only one girl out of several hundred stood out against it. Her parents were opposed to it and of course backed her up. The faculty demanded that she wear the uniform. Her parents appealed to the school board but they said they had nothing to do with it and threw the whole matter back to the faculty. About that time it was discovered that this girl did not live in the Dinuba High School district. (Continued on Back Page.)

SUMMONS In the Superior Court of the State of California

In and for the County of Santa Clara, Irene M. Morgan, Plaintiff, vs. Arthur L. Morgan, Defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Santa Clara, and the Complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said County of Santa Clara.

The People of the State of California send greetings to Arthur L. Morgan, Defendant:

You are hereby directed to appear and answer the Complaint in an action, entitled as above, brought against you in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Santa Clara, within ten days after service on you of this Summons, if served within this County, or within thirty days if served elsewhere.

And you are hereby notified that unless you so appear and answer as above required, the said plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the Complaint as arising upon contract, or will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in the Complaint.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Santa Clara, this 9th day of August, A. D. 1923.

HENRY A. PFISTER, Clerk,
[Seal] By E. T. McGehee, Deputy Clerk.

strict and their attention was called to this fact and they were informed if the girl did not wish to abide by the rules of the school she could go elsewhere. She immediately appeared in uniform.

Sometimes a girl will appear not in uniform. She is handed this card:

You are not in Prescribed Uniform.

See Mrs. Sullivan - at Once - and give her a satisfactory reason. Should she inflict punishment, be sure to see the bus driver, if necessary, and have him hold the bus for you—which he will do the first time. A copy of this card, bearing your name, has been turned in to the office.

The opposite side of the card reads:

Give extra assignment of blank to be filled in with subject) On account of no uniform.

This is filled in by her teacher requiring extra work in such study as the teacher may deem best.

"We do not aim," said the professor, "to make our rule iron-bound and rigid. Any reasonable excuse is accepted. But a girl is not expected to offer the same excuse two or more times and the method has worked very satisfactorily."

We learned also that the Porterville High School was adopting the girls' uniform rule.

This matter strikes us as a very sensible as well as economical move. There is too much tendency on the part of some girls to go to extremes in the matter of dress. This is more especially true in our larger towns. We hope and believe that this move will spread throughout all the state and be to the advantage of all concerned.

The Home Feast Day

NOVEMBER has come with its festival day,
The sweetest home-feast of the year,
When the little ones mingle in frolic and play,
And share in the Thanksgiving cheer.

And let us remember that tale of the past,
Of the Pilgrims who gathered their band,
And offered up thanks for the corn when at last
It waved o'er the famishing land.

For hunger had wasted those strong, patient men
Who struggled and labored in pain,
And the blessings of plenty which gladdened them then
Gave courage and hope once again.

And the fame of their bravery never decays,
While year after year rolls away,
Since the morning that ushered in prayer and in praise
The birth of our Thanksgiving Day.

APPRECIATION

Editor Campbell Press,
Campbell, Calif.
Dear Sir:

We wish to extend to you and through you to the public of Campbell the unanimous vote of thanks for the support given the fourth annual ball of the San Jose Chapter of Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Over fifty tickets to the ball were sold in Campbell. This is indeed a fine showing for your community.

Respectfully yours,
Manford W. Bennett,
Adjutant San Jose Chapter
No. 11, Disabled American
Veterans of the World War.

GLAD THANKSGIVING DAY

We do not count the calories that in the turkey lie,
Nor figure up the vitamins in Grandma's pumpkin pie;
No balanced ration bothers us, or takes our joy away,
When we gather round the table on the glad Thanksgiving Day!

We may be eating too much starch and not enough of fat,
The proteids may predominate, but what care we for that?
The divers dietetic laws we really can't obey,
When we gather round the table on the glad Thanksgiving Day!

Proportions may be incorrect in this most bounteous feast,
But yet the laws of nutriment don't bother us the least,
And we forget the food experts and all the things they say,
When we gather round the table on the glad Thanksgiving Day!

—Elsie Duncan Yale.
